Their efforts have been so far successful as to induce a large portion of our laboring population to accept their inducements."

The National Intelligencer, of Washington City, says "This movement of freedmen towards the Southwest is the first practical illustration of the theory of the Hon Robert J Walker, urged in his great argument in favor of the annexation of Texas, that that country will be the gateway through which the negro population of the South would ultimately pass into Mexico and the States of Central America, the climates of which are adapted to their natures, and where little prejudice exists in respect to color."

Letter from Ex-Gov Brown, of Georgia

HE URGES THE ADOPTION, BY THE SOUTH, OF THE SHERMAN RECONSTRUCTION BILL

Ex Governor Brown, of Georgia, has published in the Atlanta papers a three column letter, in which he reviews the political situation of the country, advising the people of Georgia to accept the terms imposed by the bill recently passed by both Houses of Congress. He says

It only remains for me to add, that I consider it the duty of the Governor of Georgia to call the Legislature together without delay, and to recommend the passage of an act calling a convention of the people of this State to so change our State Constitution as to provide for universal suffrage, in conformity to the measure which has passed Congress, known as the Sherman Amendment, and to provide for the early election of a Legislature which will adopt the Constitutional Amendment, in accordance with said requirements. We now have the assurance of Congress, in the passage of this bill, that this shall settle the question of our admission.

We shall never get better terms. Let us comply with them, and be ready to be represented in the next Congress as soon as possible. I respectfully suggest that the people of the several counties of this State who favor the proposed action hold public meetings with as little delay as possible and urge upon the Governor to convene the Legislature, and recommend them to take prompt action

The Governor and Legislature were elected before the Constitutional Amendment was proposed. I respectfully submit that it is their imperative duty, in the present condition of the country, to take the necessary steps to refer the question to the people at the ballot box. The most appropriate mode of doing this is the order of an election of delegates to a Convention to act upon the proposition now submitted by Congress. This they cannot with propriety refuse if the people demand it. Let the people speak. If the State will adopt this line of policy, and the Convention will memorialize Congress, asking that the Judges, county officers, and others necessary to the efficient working of the State Government, be relieved from the provisions of the Constitutional Amendment, I believe the petition, if presented in a proper spirit, will be granted, and we shall soon be relieved of much of the gloom which is now widespread over the whole South. If we reject the terms proposed in the Sherman bill I confess I see no hope for the future. Should we accept them I trust the example of Georgia may be followed by the other States, and that this vexed question may soon be permanently settled upon the best terms which we will ever be able to get

I am aware of the rapidity of the changes which we are required to make, and of the national prejudices which our people entertain against negro suffrage. But we should not forget, in yielding to an inevitable necessity, that these people were raised among us, and naturally sympathize with us. Their conduct during the war proved this. If, then, we treat them kindly, pay them their wages promptly, and in all respects deal justly by them, we shall seldom have cause to complain of their refusal to respect our wishes or consult our interests at the ballot-box.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO APRIL 8.

Washington News

WASHINGTON April 5 —In the Senate Mr Cole presented a petition from California Volunteers who say they served two or three years in successful campaigns against the Indians and were discharged 2000 miles from home without a sufficient pittance for reaching California. They ask that they may be allowed the same rate of transportation paid to other discharged soldiers. Referred

The Secretary of the Interior was directed to inform the Senate in what capacity Louis V. Bogy is employed in the service of the Interior Department and by what authority Sharkey appeared before the Supreme Court and filed a bill of complaint and prayer for an injunction to restrain the President and the district commander of Mississippi from enforcing the reconstruction law. Stanbery said the leave of the Court must be obtained for filing, and he desired to appear at the earliest possible moment to object to the bill. Mr Sharkey filed his bill and the question went over till next meeting day which is Friday next

Mr Sumner offered a resolution which he said he would call up to-morrow for the expulsion of Mr Saulsbury of Delaware, for repeatedly appearing on the floor of the Senate in an intoxicated condition. The Senate went into Executive session

CHICAGO, April 5 —The Republican says that it is very probable that Saulsbury will be expelled tomorrow. He has been drunk for several days, and his conduct is disgraceful. The resolution was threatened some time ago and will now be pressed to a vote. Patterson of Tennessee, it is said, will meet with the same fate unless he corrects his habits

WASHINGTON, April 5 —Alexander Asboth of Mississippi, has been confirmed as Minister resident to Uruguay, and T R Smith, of Ohio as Consul to Panama.

A petition for the confirmation of Rousseau has been signed by several prominent Republican members of the House. There are only three majority for his confirmation

Solomon Meredith was rejected as Surveyor General of Montana by a large majority

Probably nobody will be confirmed as Minister to Austria, and there will be no vacancy, Motley holding over until some one is confirmed

Revenue Commissioner Welles has accepted an invitation of the English free traders to spend the summer in English manufactories

Lobby influence is pressing the Russian treaty vigorously but it is probably doomed to defeat

The conduct of the Attorney General in opposing Sharkey's petition has caused surprise. The delegation from Georgia is preparing a similar bill. It is believed the President will allow the law to be executed to the full extent although it is not known whether Sheridan will be allowed to make more removals. There are over thirty applicants for the position of Commissioner of Agriculture

Dr Burleigh's Congressional expedition to Dakotah has been abandoned on account of the hostile attitude of the Indians.

The Austrian Mission.

NEW YORK April 6th —The World's special dispatch says the nomination of Nesmith as Minister to Austria is merely complimentary. He did not solicit and will not accept it. He was tendered a place in the Cabinet, and the office of Commissioner of Indian Affairs both of which he declined. The Commission is still open

The Tribune's correspondent says Seward is anxious that Nesmith shall accept the position and is determined that only straight out friends of Johnson and Seward shall represent them at foreign Courts. The friends and other applicants assert that the President nominated Nesmith to drive them off and will wait the abatement of the coming election fever among the Democrats whom he will appoint Foster

Thomas Kirby Smith of Ohio, who was appointed Consul at Panama was an applicant for the Louisiana Marshalship. The Consulship is offered as a compromise, but it is thought he will not accept.

The Russian Treaty.

The Tribune says Seward is laboring with great assiduity to obtain a ratification of the Russian Treaty. Appointments are promised of which the confirmation is assured, and appeals are made to the private and the personal friendships of Senators. It is believed the committee on Foreign Relations will report without recommendation

Steamship Matters.

NEW YORK April 5 —The Tribune announces the organization of an opposition line to California via Panama. Capital, $3,000,000. The steamers Oregonian, Idaho and Montana have been purchased. Pacific mail stock sold down to 110

NEW YORK, April 5 —The Times advertises the new California freight line at greatly reduced rates. A first class steamer will be dispatched on the 18th connecting with the Oregonian. Another will follow May 4th to connect with the Idaho. The steamers will make semi monthly trips regularly

Arkansas Affairs—Reconstruction.

NEW YORK, April 6 —The Herald says the Little Rock Convention has appointed a Committee to confer with Gen Ord in relation to registration of voters. A resolution asking Congress to remove the cotton tax was adopted and the Convention adjourned

The Times says Sheridan has written a letter to Grant in which he says that Griffin recommends the removal of Gov Throckmorton, of Texas. Sheridan agrees with him. He also thinks it necessary to remove the Governor of Louisiana. He says he will commence the work of registration as soon as he receives a certified copy of the law. He says he feels himself equal to the task imposed by the law and concludes by saying that he will make few removals.

Grant replies that it is not proper to remove the Governors. The subject is now under consideration. It is not believed that the military commanders have power to remove Governors. That can only be done by Act of Congress or trials under the law. It is quite certain that there will be no interference with Gen Sheridan

The reconstruction law will probably be first inaugurated in Virginia. Gen Schofield is engaged in organizing boards of registry and making other preparations for the election for a State Convention

The registration in Washington gives the colored voters 12,000 majority

The Tribune says: Nesmith will be rejected without debate, it being understood that he does not desire the office

An effort will be made to withdraw the resolution for the expulsion of Saulsbury, and put him on probation

The Herald's statement that the President is the prime mover in the effort to obtain an injunction against the enforcement of the reconstruction law, is emphatically denied. Mr Sharkey notified him of his intention to enter proceedings, and the President neither opposed nor approved

Miscellaneous

NEW YORK April 5 —The Tribune publishes a report of Samuel Adams to the Secretary of War on the navigation of the Colorado. He believes it should be part of the central route of communication between the Atlantic and Pacific

The Herald's special says It is expected the Indian treaties will be disposed of in the Senate to morrow, and a large number of Indians here sent home

CHICAGO April 6 —The Times intimates that Saulsbury intends to resign

Arrangements for the sale of the old Capitol buildings were completed to-day. They have been purchased by the proprietor of the New York hotel who intends to erect a large splendid building on the site

Secretary McCulloch received congratulations from the New York bankers on the fact that he had reduced the public debt during the past year two hundred million dollars

The first election under the reconstruction law will take place in Virginia about the middle of June

WASHINGTON, April 6 —Senator Chandler said that the Senate had been remarkably liberal. As an instance of how they expressed their gratitude, he read a speech in response to a serenade, by a recently confirmed official from Pennsylvania, denouncing Congress as the radical party in executive session

The House Committee on Printing has met to investigate the charges against Mr Wendell, late Superintendent of Printing

Gen G H Thomas has been confirmed as a Brevet Major General. Colonels Swayne, Sickles, Crittenden Reynolds Grierson, Nelson and Mills are confirmed as Brevet Brigadier Generals

CHICAGO, April 6 —The Journal says that Mr Sumner did not call up the resolution to expel Mr Saulsbury. The next time Mr Saulsbury appears drunk on the floor of the Senate, the resolution will be called up

There is a sentiment growing up in favor of the Russian treaty. The Committee will probably report favorably

The President says there is work enough to keep the Senate in session for two weeks

The last despatch from the British Government, in reference to the Alabama claims, is said to be not satisfactory

NEW YORK April 5 —The Cheyennes and Arrapahoes are reported as leaving the Upper Missouri country in great numbers. They are going to the Territory of Arkansas to avoid the impending conflict

Bishops Hopkins and Potter and Dr Tyng of New York, expect to attend the council of the English Church called by the Archbishop of Canterbury

An attempt made to descend into the shaft was prevented by the bursting out of flames in the pit. Thirty white men and thirty nine negroes were in the mine at the time of the explosion

ST LOUIS, April 5 —The report of a massacre at Fort Buford is not credited here. Letters from Fort Sully of later date than the day of the reported slaughter make no mention of such an occurrence. Sherman has no information of a massacre

ST LOUIS, April 6 —Gen Bailey, who extricated Porter's fleet of gun boats from their perilous situation on Red river at the time of Banks expedition, was murdered and robbed in Vernon county a few days ago. HARRISBURG, Pa, April 6.—The Sheriff of Luzerne county has telegraphed the Governor that there are serious riots in Hazleton and Foster townships of that county; that his authority has been exhausted without success, and that an armed organized force is necessary. He asked for an order calling out Capt. Ellis company of Wyoming veterans

The Governor, after ascertaining the precise condition of affairs telegraphed to Capt Ellis to hold his company in readiness for future orders

The Government will be administered by the Principal Secretary of State. Salnave has returned to Hayti and taken command of the Northern Department. All was quiet at the latest advices. The revolution is followed by peaceful political movements. General discontent and the embarrassed condition of the treasury are the causes of the revolt.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8 —The Bulletin publishes the following: A formidable movement is on foot, both in this city and New York for the establishment of an opposition line of steamers between this city and New York via Panama

The rumors of the withdrawal of the propellers Idaho and Montana from the Portland route was not without cause, and we have it from reliable authority that negotiations are on foot for the purchase of these two ships, as well as the side-wheel steamer Oregonian, now lying in this port. The purchase has not as yet been concluded but unless some unforeseen obstacle presents itself they will be transferred to the new company in a few days, or soon after the Idaho discharges her cargo. The company on this side is a formidable one, including the foremost men in the Bank of California, Parrott & Co, Captain R H. Pearson and J. W Ladd, and other capitalists and steamship men. Captain Pearson will probably be the managing man on this side, and O. K Garrison, who is understood to be out with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, is expected to control the other side. The new company propose to carry freight and passengers at greatly reduced rates. It is stated by parties who are in a position to know, that the new company will secure nearly all the treasure shipments at once

RESURRECTION FROM THE DEAD —The Wytheville (Va) Dispatch says:

We are informed that Peter Butner, a former resident of our town, who has contended for a number of years has contended that he will never die but will remain on this earth till Gabriel shall blow his trumpet, was thrown into some sort of trance a few days since, by which life was, to all appearances entirely extinct. His belief led him to often warn his friends not to put him under terra firma too soon, but to keep his body many days, so as to convince themselves of the fact that he would never die. His warning was taken, and on the fifth day of his transitory sleep, unmistakable signs of life appeared in Peter's body, and in a few hours he was himself again. He has been a close reader of the Good Book, and we have heard him preach some good sermons

The London Athenæum, comparing Pollard's "Lost Cause," with some of his previous books on the rebellion, says

He has grown rather less charitable or more outspoken, and in anger resembling the clamorous wrath of an hysteric Irishwoman bent on giving her neighbors a little piece of her mind, he distributes his maledictions indifferently on great Northerners and small Northerners, on their civilization and their representative men."

CHRONOMETERS VS SPOONS —The New Orleans Tribune says General Butler intends to sue for libel every journal which at this late day repeats the stale calumnies of the war about his stealing spoons. The Tribune suggests that the libellers had better turn their attention to Sommes, about whose stealing of chronometers there is no doubt

RECEIVED PARDON OF EX GOVERNOR LETCHER, OF VIRGINIA —The Lexington Virginia Gazette states that on Saturday, the 2d inst., ex Governor Letcher received by mail his pardon from the President

The Houston (Texas) Telegraph, in illustrating the advantages of advertising, states that a gentleman advertised the loss of a fifty dollar note in the Telegraph not long since, and found it in his vest pocket, before he reached home from that office.

A PREACHER CAUGHT IN HIS OWN TRAP.—Once two ministers of the gospel were conversing together on extemporaneous preaching

"Well," said the old divine waxing warm, "you are ruining yourself by writing your sermons and reading them off. Your congregation cannot become interested in your preaching, and if you were called upon to preach unexpectedly, unless you could get hold of an old sermon, you would be completely confused

The young divine used all his eloquence but in vain, to convince the old gentleman that the written sermons expressed his own thoughts and feelings, and if called upon he could preach extemporaneously.

"As you are of the same faith," said the young minister, "suppose you [illegible] me next Sabbath morning. On ascending the pulpit you can hand me a text from any part of the Bible and I will convince you that I can preach without having looked at the text before [illegible] up

"Likewise I must be allowed the same privilege with you, and see who will make the best of it."

The idea seemed to delight the old gentleman, and it was immediately agreed upon

The following Sabbath on mounting the pulpit his senior brother handed him a slip of paper, on which was written "And the ass opened his mouth and spake," from which he preached a glorious sermon, chaining the attention of his delighted hearers, and charming his old friend with his eloquence.

In the afternoon the young brother, who, sitting below the pulpit, handed his slip. After [illegible] and opening the bible the old man looked [illegible] around—"Am I not thine ass?" Pausing a few minutes he ran his fingers through his hair, straightened his collar, blew his nose like the last trumpet, and read aloud "Am I not thine ass?" Another pause, in which a deadly silence [illegible]. After reading the third time "Am I not thine ass?"—he looked over the pulpit at his [illegible] and said in a doleful tone said —"I think I am, brother."

CON —Why is the rebellion like a [illegible] note? Because it was put down with [illegible] white.

TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 9 1867.

Wool Consumption

That portion of the late report of the Special Commissioner of Internal Revenue which treats of the importation and consumption of wool in the United States, is roughly handled in a paper embodied in the report of the Commissioner of Agriculture for January. The Revenue Commissioner in his report attempted to show that the present duties on wool were operating as a ruinous tax upon the resources of the country. His estimate was that the increased cost of woolen goods to the country, resulting from these imposts, was $6,000,000 for each cent imposed on imported wools, and that an average duty of ten cents per pound and ten per cent. ad valorem would add $71,250,000 per annum to the cost of the woolen [illegible] now consumed in the United States. This, he says, is the sum which the country pays for the protection of an interest whose entire product [illegible] be considered in excess of $36,000,000 in gold valuation.

The Commissioner of Agriculture shows that [illegible] intended to exhibit so enormous an [illegible] in the cost of woolen goods in consequence of the imposts, are based on promises and [illegible] which are erroneous and absurd. First, the [illegible] Commissioner estimates the annual [illegible]mption of wool in the United States at 500,000,000 pounds—a calculation so palpably ex[illegible] that it will not bear a moment's examination. The domestic supply he reckons at 100,000,000 pounds, which is no doubt very near the figure, leaving the enormous quantity of 400,000,000 [illegible] to be furnished by importations! Here is his [illegible] error. During the four years ending with 1865, the amount of dutiable wool imported was 241,000,000 pounds, and under the reciprocity [illegible] during the same period 10,500,000 pounds [illegible] from Canada, free of duty. Other importa[illegible] of shoddy, etc., carried up the total in [illegible] to 288,000,000 pounds. Estimates [illegible] that the amount of woolen goods imported [illegible] the same period was equivalent to 220,000,000 [illegible] of wool. Here we have 509,000,000 [illegible] as the importations of four years, instead [illegible] 1,600,000,000 pounds for the same period, as [illegible] by the Revenue Commissioner. In oth[illegible], we have imported in all ways but 125,[illegible] pounds per annum during these four years, [illegible] of upwards of 400,000,000 pounds, as es[illegible] in the Revenue Commissioner's report. [illegible] be borne in mind that the waste of [illegible] the scarcity of cotton during this period [illegible] a largely increased consumption of woolen goods, and consequently a large [illegible] in the importations of wool and woolens. [illegible] from this extravagant estimate of importa[illegible] 400,000,000 pounds per annum—that the [illegible] derives his conclusion that the increased cost of woolen goods to the country in [illegible] of the tariff, is double the whole value [illegible] designed to be protected by this tax [illegible] article. From the above figures it [illegible] seen that much more than half the great [illegible] he undertook to show was added to the [illegible] goods by protection, is dissipated.

[illegible] estimates show that for four years ending with 1865, the domestic supply of wool [illegible] about 300,000,000 pounds. As al[illegible], the importations in one form or another [illegible] equivalent to 500,000,000 pounds [illegible] consumption of wool for this period was about 200,000,000 pounds per annum, a [illegible] quantity than is now required. The Commissioner of Agriculture says "This country [illegible] only more than 50,000,000 pounds [illegible] cloth, and not more than 170,000,000 [illegible] of wool. Our manufacturers are now do[illegible] and some of our wool growers have two [illegible] clips on hand. There is to-day, with the [illegible] as much clothing wool in the country [illegible] need to manufacture till shearing time in [illegible] and in three years, with proper protection, [illegible] growers can easily produce every ounce [illegible] carpet wools and all."

Pertinent Quotations.

[illegible] day we referred to the opinions held by Mr. J[illegible] in regard to the Supreme Court, [illegible] by the record he has left us that he [illegible] for that tribunal than some of [illegible] now profess. To show the contrast [illegible] his views and those on this subject, a few extracts will be added.

Mr. Jefferson utterly repudiated the idea that [illegible] is the last resort in relation to the [illegible] Departments of the Government." "If [illegible] be sound," said he, "then indeed is [illegible] a complete felo de se. For in[illegible] to which three departments that they [illegible] and balance one another, it has given [illegible] to this opinion, to one of them alone [illegible] to prescribe rules for the government of [illegible]." Proceeding with his argument [illegible] this interpretation of the Constitution, he > [illegible] on this hypothesis, is a mere thing of [illegible] of the Judiciary, which they may twist [illegible] into any form they please. It should be re[illegible] as an eternal truth that whatever power is [illegible] is absolute also; in theory only at [illegible] the spirit of the people is up, but in practice [illegible] Independence can be trusted no[illegible] with the people in mass. My construction of [illegible] is that each Department is truly inde[illegible] the others, and has an equal right to decide [illegible] what is the meaning of the Constitution in the [illegible] to its action.

[illegible] little with the opinions now held by the party which claims Mr. Jefferson as its [illegible], since this party holds that both the Executive and Legislative Departments are bound by the [illegible] of the Judiciary, and that this latter [illegible] alone has the right "to prescribe rules for the government of the others."

It was also the declared opinion of Mr. Jefferson that "each of the three Departments has [illegible] the right to decide for itself what is its duty [illegible] the Constitution, without any regard to what the others may have decided for them [illegible] under a similar question." Will any disciple of Jefferson carefully consider this declaration and, taking it as a guide, show wherein the [illegible] action of Congress in relation to the other Departments has been unjustifiable or improper? The quotations we have just made are from a letter written by Mr. Jefferson to Judge Roane, September 6th, 1819.

In another letter dated September 28th, 1820, he refers to the same subject. This letter was written in reply to a communication from Mr Jarvis:

> You seem to consider the judges as the ultimate arbiters of all constitutional questions, a very dangerous doctrine indeed, and one that would place us under the [illegible] of an oligarchy. Our judges are as honest as other men, and not more so. This power is the more dangerous as they are in office for life and not responsible, as the other functionaries are, to elective control. The C[illegible]itution has erected no such single tribunal, knowing that its members would become despots.

A careful consideration of these and other passages of a like kind which abound in Mr Jefferson's works, would be very proper at this time for that party which professes to follow his teachings in all things.

WHISKY FRAUDS.—The Committee appointed by Congress to investigate and report on the whisky frauds state that "at least seven eighths of the entire amount of spirits manufactured have escaped taxation," and that "few, if any of the large distilleries in the United States, now in operation, are doing a legitimate business." In 1866 the Government was cheated out of $100,000,000 by these frauds.

Professor Alexander Dallas Bache, Chief of the United States Coast Survey, lately deceased, was a lineal descendant of Benjamin Franklin. His grandmother was Sarah Franklin, only daughter of the great American philosopher.

Admirable Discretion.

The New York World declares that if the Southern people should at this time resist the execution of the laws by force, "they would be fighting in as righteous a cause as any in which a patriot ever drew his sword." But the World also declares that in an appeal to arms at this conjuncture, success "would be hopeless," and therefore it counsels submission on the part of the South and acceptance of the conditions required by Congress. This discretion is admirable. It is well that the natural inclination of the World's party to encourage rebellions, and even to engage in them, is held in check by prudential considerations. This is a great point gained. It is something worth fighting for to have established the principle that it is not safe for a defeated party in a popular government to appeal to arms as a means of reversing the decisions of the ballot box. The Democratic party has learned not to flare up and square off for a fight when it meets with defeat. The bully has been tamed, and surely it is something to be rid of his threats and boastings.

The Indian Campaign.

The following very interesting account of the Indians in Montana Territory, is taken from the Post of March 16th:

There is more than usual interest manifested in regard to the Indians, and the probabilities of the coming campaign, by the mountain press and people. From Mr. Richardson—better known as Rashaw—who is conversant with their language and has just returned from Fort Smith, we have ascertained the following facts in regard to their strength and intentions. Fort Smith, on the Big Horn river, is garrisoned by about two hundred men, commanded by Capt Kinney. About thirty-five miles from the fort are eighteen hundred lodges of Sioux, averaging three warriors to the lodge—and under the command of Red Cloud, the famous war chief of the recent massacre. Subordinate to him are the chiefs White Young Bull and Iron Plate. These owing to the severe weather and deep snow, have not committed any depredations, but are prepared to move as soon as the winter will permit. Around the fort are a number of Crows camped who have so far been friendly. It is well known that a bitterly hostile feeling has existed between the Sioux and some of the other tribes. In anticipation of this summer's work, the Sioux sent to the Bloods, Peaguins and Gros-Ventres the "peace pipe," which they have accepted and joined the league against the whites. They are camped on the left bank of the Missouri, something like eight hundred lodges strong. A deputation of them to the Sioux camp state that their tribes will soon cross the Missouri river and camp near Musselshell, from whence they will wage a war of extermination against the whites—and will never make peace until they conquer. They say the whites have now occupied their only hunting grounds. Death is inevitable, and they prefer it in battle rather than by starvation. The principal Blackfoot chief says he has lived in the mining camps for years, that he has killed numbers of whites; that they are "old squaws" and will not fight. The Arrapahoes talk for peace. "Nave," whom many of the emigrants will remember as talking English and Spanish very well, has returned from the direction of Laramie, where the troops fired on him and his band, and still manifests friendship. Lone Horn, who, with fifteen hundred Sioux warriors, made peace at Fort Sully, last summer, is in trouble. It is believed that they have not warred against the whites, but have held aloof from the league.

Lone Horn said to the whites, recently, "When we made peace, last summer, the Great Father said we should be brothers, and my people have not broken their pledge. Whenever we meet, the red man they hate us because we do not fight, and when the whites see my people they fire on them and kill them. This is not right. The Great Father said whoever should fire first should die. If he does not keep the treaty, we will have to go with the other tribes and fight the whites.

In the fight at Fort Phil Kearney, twenty-seven hundred Indians were engaged—nine hundred did the fighting, while nineteen hundred were lying concealed near the Fort, to capture it if reinforcements had been sent to Fetterman. The Sioux lost, in killed, Lone Bear and Iron Eye and six warriors. The Cheyennes had killed, Little Wolf, and five warriors. About one hundred and fifty were wounded. Lying concealed on their side of the ravine, when they raised up and fired, the troops had advanced so far in the acute angle of the ambuscade that they fired past them, and many of the Indians were shot with arrows from the opposite side of the ravine. One soldier boy, about seventeen years of age was captured but when the brother of Lone Bear heard he was killed, he claimed the privilege and killed the captive. The commandant of Fort Smith does not expect to be able to hold his position, and it is thought if reinforcements do not arrive, the command will come to Clark's Fork of the Yellowstone. When the troops destined for the route arrive, posts will be established at all these points.

The Wastuchna Road.

The following correspondence in relation to this road has been sent us for publication:

COW CREEK, March 27, 1867.

FRIEND FLANDERS: I write to let you know how we got along on our new road. It is the best natural road I ever saw through such a rough country. We got along without any trouble and have beaten Pat Mahony and Smith. Joaquin left us yesterday.

You have the best route that there is between here and Wallula. It must be about thirty miles the shorter. I heard that Mahoney & Smith are at Palouse Camp.

Yours Very Respectfully,
THOS. RONAN

CAMP (four miles beyond) COW CREEK
April 2, 1867

DEAR SIR. We have just been over the new road from Wallula to Cow Creek with our train, containing 152 animals. We found the road good in every respect, as represented by you and others! no muddy or mirey places whatever, comparatively little sand, not to exceed four miles on the whole route, and level. There is not a difficult hill on the road. The hill going out from Snake river is of very gradual and easy ascent. We made the entire distance from the Columbia river to camp four miles beyond Cow Creek, in five days. Our train was ferried across Snake river in a little over three hours. The new road saves at least 25 or 30 miles over any other between Wallula and Cow Creek; and we have no hesitation in stating that your account of the road, its natural advantages, distances, water, grass, etc., are correct. It is, in fact, one of the best natural roads we ever traveled.

Yours truly,
M. CASTLE,
FRANK LOWDEN

To Messrs. Hazard Stevens and Alvan Flanders.

An English book on the South, called "After the War," by Whitelaw Reid, is praised by the Westminster Review. Mr. Reid gives the following as the purport of some remarks made in his hearing by ex-Confederate General Yorke:

"'You don't know what you are talking about,' he exclaimed, impetuously, to some one who was haranguing against the cruelty of the Government. 'I tell you sir, you have got and I have got the most merciful Government in the world. What's the use of trying to disguise the fact? We attempted to destroy the Government and failed; any other would have hung me for my share in the matter, and would have had a perfect right to do it. I consider myself a standing proof of the mercy of my Government. It confiscated my property while I was gone fighting against it. I don't complain; it did perfectly right. Since then I have got my property back, a thing I had no right to expect, and I am very grateful for it. I only want a chance to prove my gratitude. If we get into a war about the Mexican business, I'll try and show the Government how I appreciate its generosity to me.' Some one said the war wasn't over yet. 'Isn't it?' said the General. 'Well maybe you haven't had enough of it. But I tell you the men that did the fighting have. What's more, they are satisfied to quit and take things as they can get them. More still, I don't know of anybody that isn't satisfied to quit, except the stay at home sneaks that have never yet made a beginning. You are very full of fight now, all of a sudden, when it isn't needed, why didn't you show some of it when we wanted you in the trenches at Richmond?'"

The following dispatch from Frankfort (Ky.) February 20, illustrates the manner in which the rebels lambs are disposed to listen to conciliation, and let bygones be bygones.

The rebels in Boyle county have recently sent letters to General Speed S Fry, Captain Goodloe, a relative of Joseph F. Bell, Wellington Harlan, and the officers of the Freedmen's Bureau, to leave the county under penalty of death. Application to General Thomas has been made for the protection of Union men against these rebel regulators.

General Fry is the officer who is popularly believed to have killed Zollicoffer at Mills Springs, in January, 1862, and Wellington Harlan recruited the first company of Union troops raised on Kentucky soil during the war. Neither of them is an extreme radical politically, and their most probable offense is their record during the war.

WHAT REBELS SAY OF LOYAL SOLDIERS.—The Memphis Appeal ranks among the "petty tyrants," "military satraps," etc., "that Southern renegade, General Thomas." "This doughty military man," says the Appeal, "may have the brute part of a soldier, but he lacks those refined sentiments which make a man a hero. His infamous order forbidding any display at the burial of the late General Hanson, and his testimony before the Congressional Committee, give him, though he may not have stolen spoons and robbed banks, the right to be placed on the left hand of Beast Butler, with Griffin, Sheridan and Stanton on the right forming a monument of characters whose notoriety will be as much admired and last as long as that of the aspiring youth who fired the Ephesian dome."

LABOR IN THE SOUTH.—The Southern newspapers are beginning to complain of a want of laborers, and are urging the appointment of agents to induce immigration from Europe, and to afford a free passage to those who desire to come to this country, and employment on their arrival. A meeting for this purpose has been called by the Mayor and Chamber of Commerce of Selma, Alabama.

The oldest living actor, according to the Boston Post, is "Superfluous Lags, the veteran on the stage."

CHEAP PROVISIONS IN TEXAS.—The San Antonio Ledger says that fine fat chickens are selling at $3 a dozen, and turkeys $9 a dozen; venison hams, $6 a dozen, sweet potatoes at 75 cents to $1 per bushel, pork, $4 and $5 per 100, and beef of splendid quality at 5 cents a pound.

THE SOUTHERN HOMESTEAD BILL.—The New Orleans Tribune says the object of this law has been defeated in Louisiana, the loyal settlers secured by it having been driven off by Bradley's gang of rebels.

WANT IN GEORGIA.—The Atlanta Era estimates that there are 50,000 destitute people in Georgia. What would have been the condition of the South if the war had continued till now?

TO-DAY.—This beautiful weather suggests the idea that now is the time to go to BUCHTEL & CARDWELL'S PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY and get one of those splendid Sun Pearls, or pictures of some kind. The favorite artist Mr. Buchtel, will be found ready to attend to the wants of all his old friends, and all should certainly improve the present opportunities.

KOHN & FISHEL at the ST LOUIS STORE No 111 Front street, are now selling Best White Shirts for $2, good under shirts and drawers, which formerly sold for $2 and $2 50, for $1 and $1 50; fine business coats $8 to $12; stylish and most durable Cassimere suits such as were retailed for $30 and $35 for $18 to $20; splendid Cassimere pants for $5 00. The latest styles of dress and Beaver suits, and all other kinds of suits and everything for Gents wear at equally low prices. After examining Kohn & Fishel's stock and prices, the most stubborn must be convinced that they are entitled to the greatest portion of the trade.

THIS COMPANY HAVING GREATLY enlarged their Refining Works, and introduced many other important improvements, are pleased to announce that they feel warranted in again reducing materially their terms of doing business.

THE TARIFF OF CHARGES

Which they now submit to the public—considered with reference to the cost of material and labor—is lower than in any other part of the world and secures to the mining interest of this coast an important increase in both the minting and commercial value of bullion.

Their charges hereafter will be as follows:

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED GOLD BARS

One eighth of one per cent (heretofore a quarter) for all amounts over $1,600, and two dollars for any smaller sum. Returns made in twenty-four hours.

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED SILVER BARS

Two dollars for the gold contained, up to $1,600, and one-eighth of one per cent, for all amounts over that sum, and one per cent. on the silver contained. Returns made in twenty four hours.

FOR REFINING DEPOSITS MADE FOR COIN OR FINE BARS

On bullion under 300 parts gold, 2 cents per ounce.

On bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 4 cents per ounce.

On bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 6 cents per ounce.

On bullion from 750½@949½ parts gold, 8 cents per ounce.

Above 950 the only charge will be for coinage. But there will be no charge for refining less than two dollars.

FOR COINING GOLD.

This charge will be the same as at the Mint—a half of one per cent.—and which is paid by us to that institution. But there will be no charge in future for making fine gold or silver bars from bullion refined by us.

RETURNS IN COIN IN FORTY-EIGHT HOURS.

Silver contained in deposits for coin will be accounted for at the same rate customary at the Mint.

Gold bars of other Assayers, in good standing, will be cashed by us at the highest market rates.

Dust and bullion can be forwarded to us from any part of the country, and returns made through Wells, Fargo & Co's Express.

CHARGES AT U. S. BRANCH MINT.

For the convenience of those not familiar with the terms of the Mint, we subjoin the tariff of charges now in force at that institution:

For refining bullion under 300 parts gold, 3 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 5 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 7 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 750½@830 parts gold, 11 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 830½@949½ parts gold, 14 cents per ounce.

The charge for coinage is half of one per cent, and the charge for making fine silver bars, the same.

Comparing the net value of deposits for coinage, with the proceeds of unparted gold bars sold in the market—assuming that the bars have cost ¾ of one per cent.—they must be sold at the following par rates to equal the return which would have been made had they been deposited for coinage:

850 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents.

845 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents.

865 par to equal San Francisco A. & R. Works return, at refining charge of 8 cents. mh1d2p3m

A VALUABLE INVENTION.

THE UNDERSIGNED CALLS THE ATTENTION of smokers to the celebrated
PATENT DOUBLE-TUBE PIPES

Which he is now importing and which are recommended to all smokers. Its peculiar merit consists in the use of TWO TUBES, the one for the smoke alone and the other for the passage of the saliva and the nicotine to the cup at the bottom, whence it is discharged. The smoke being thus kept clear of contact with the saliva, is always delicious and pure in its odor, and the collected matter which renders all other pipes offensive being entirely removed, the pipe will always continue sweet and agreeable. It gives to the smoker the pure exhalation of the tobacco, free from its noxious nicotine; it possesses merits never before obtained in pipes.

A leading eastern journal says of this pipe "Its merits are incontestably proved by the fact that it is permanently superceding all others in use."

Another great advantage in this pipe is that the smoker can easily take it to pieces. If the draught becomes obstructed you can withdraw the stem and re open the upper tube of the bowl without emptying it of tobacco.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGE!

Pain Killer taken internally, should be adulterated with milk or water, and sweetened with sugar if desired, or made into a syrup with molasses. For a cough, a few drops on sugar eaten will be more effective than anything else. For sore throat, gargle the throat with a mixture of Pain Killer and water, and relief is immediate and the cure positive.

It should not be forgotten that the Pain Killer is equally as good to take internally as to use externally. Each bottle is wrapped with full directions for its use. Dyspepsia can be and is cured every day by the use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer. This is the most wonderful and valuable medicine ever known for this disease. Its action upon the system is entirely different from any other preparation known. The patient, while taking this medicine, may eat anything the appetite craves. Sold by all medicine dealers. mh20dawlm

THE GLORY OF MAN IS STRENGTH. —Therefore the nervous and debilitated should immediately use Helmbold's Extract Buchu.

Bronchitis or Chronic Sore Throat.—It is attended with irritation of the bronchial tubes, which convey the air we breathe into the lungs. The irritation produces sore throat, hoarseness, roughing, and sometimes spitting of matter streaked with blood. If it is neglected it will extend down to the lungs, and settles into confirmed consumption. Allen's Lung Balsam will be found a most valuable remedy for curing this disease, and prevent its running into the consumption. For sale by dealers in family medicine generally. ta20

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU and Improved Rose Wash cures secret and delicate disorders in all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience and no exposure. It is pleasant in taste and odor, immediate in its action, and free from all injurious properties.

If you must take medicines then take AYER'S, which are by far the most effectual remedies to be had any where.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU gives health and vigor to the frame and bloom to the pallid cheek. Debility is accompanied by many alarming symptoms, and if no treatment is submitted to, consumption, insanity, or epileptic fits ensue.

If, as the old adage declares, "Health is the Greatest of Earthly Blessings," then every effort to preserve it pays well.

DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS

Have been of great service in making people healthy, and keeping them so. They should be found in every household.

They give tone to the Stomach, vigor to the body, and remove dark doubts and unhappy feelings from the mind. They relieve pain and fortify the whole system against the attacks of disease.

There is nothing better to take "for the Stomach sake" than the PLANTATION BITTERS.

They cure Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Indigestion, Drowsiness, Headache, Pain in the Side, Liver Complaint, and Rheumatic Pains, with magical power.

A good effect is felt at once upon making the first trial. No change of diet is necessary. Eat the best you can get and all you want. Follow our directions and you will soon feel

WELL, STRONG AND HEARTY.

A great many side hits are being made in the Plantation Bitters, by a score or two of disinterested friends who have endeavored to imitate or counterfeit them. It's all of no use. The people won't be imposed upon. The Plantation Bitters are increasing in use and popularity every day, and "that's what's the matter." They are the same sized bottle, and made just as they were at first, and will continue to be, or we shall stop making them.

They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhoea, Cholera and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They are the best Bitters in the world. They make the weak strong, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. The Recipe and full Circular are around each bottle. Clergymen, Merchants, and persons whose sedentary habits induce weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, liver complaint, constipation, &c., will find immediate and permanent relief in these Bitters. But above all, they are recommended to weak and delicate females and mothers.

They are sold by all respectable merchants. See that each bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork and steel-plate side label.

Beware of refilled bottles. See that the stamp has not been tampered with. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon is a swindler and impostor, and should be immediately reported to us.

Mustang Liniment.

OVER A MILLION DOLLARS SAVED!

Gentlemen:—"I had a negro man worth $1,200 who took cold from a bad hurt in the leg, and was useless for over a year. I had used everything I could hear of without benefit, until I tried the Mexican Mustang Liniment. It soon effected a permanent cure."

J. L. DOWNING.

Montgomery, Ala., June 17, 1859.

"I take pleasure in recommending the Mexican Mustang Liniment as a valuable and indispensable article for Sprains, Sores, Scratches or Galls on Horses. Our men have used it for Burns, Bruises, Sores, Rheumatism, &c., and all say it acts like magic. J. W. HEWITT, Foreman American, Wells, Fargo's and Harnden's Express.

"The sprain of my daughter's ankle, occasioned while skating last winter, was entirely cured in one week, after she commenced using your celebrated Mustang Liniment.

Gloucester, Mass., Aug 1, 1865. ED. SEELY."

It is an admitted fact that the Mexican Mustang Liniment performs more cures in shorter time, on man and beast, than any article ever discovered. Families, livery men and planters should always have it on hand. Quick and sure it certainly is. All genuine is wrapped in steel-plate engravings, bearing U. S. Stamp of DEMAS BARNES & Co. over the top.

An effort has been made to counterfeit it with a cheap stone-plate label. Look closely!

Lyon's Katharion.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents hair turning gray and falling off.
It restores hair upon prematurely bald heads.

This is just what Lyon's Katharion will do. It is pretty—it is cheap—durable. It is literally sold by the car-load, and yet its almost incredible demand is daily increasing, until there is hardly a country store that does not keep it, or a family that does not use it.

E. THOMAS LYON, Chemist, N. Y.

Lyon's Extract Ginger.

LYON'S EXTRACT OF PURE JAMAICA GINGER—for Indigestion, Nausea, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Cholera Morbus, Flatulency, &c., where a warming stimulant is required. Its careful preparation and entire purity make a cheap and reliable article for culinary purposes. Sold everywhere at 50 cents per bottle. Ask for "LYON'S" PURE EXTRACT. Take no other.

CAUTION—See that the private U. S. Stamp of Demas Barnes & Co. is over cork of each bottle. None other is genuine.

Lyon's Flea Powder.

DEATH TO FLEAS.—It is well known that Lyon's genuine Magnolia Powder will perfectly destroy everything in the shape of fleas, ticks, bed-bugs, roaches, &c.; that it is perfect poison to the insect tribe, but entirely harmless to the human species and domestic animals. The genuine has the signature of E. LYON, and the private stamp of DEMAS BARNES & CO. Anything else of this kind is an imitation or counterfeit. Any druggist will procure the genuine if you insist; you will have no other.

STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

The University

HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

THE LANDS OF THE ABOVE NAMED ASSOCIATION are situated in San Francisco and are eligibly and most desirably located, adjoining the grounds purchased by the Presbyterian University Society on which College buildings are to be at once erected. The site is less than thirty minutes ride from Montgomery street; lying just west or back of the lands of the South San Francisco Homestead and Railroad Association and the Bay View Park, almost within a stone's throw of ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.

The tract will require little or no grading, there being scarcely a single lot on which it would not be safe to build without any change of grade. It commands a

Beautiful View of the Bay,

And its opposite shore, and has a soil of extreme richness. So great are the natural attractions of the spot that very many of the wealthy citizens of San Francisco have already purchased whole blocks in the same tract, and design building residences thereon.

The Rev. E. Thomas, D. D.,

Is President of the Association; Lester L. Robinson formerly Vice President of the Sacramento Railroad Company, is the Treasurer, and Thomas B. Lewis, formerly of Portland, Secretary.

Four lots, 25x120 feet each, constitute a share, costing $316—paid in monthly installments of $10 each, after the first payment of $10 has been made.

Maps and books giving full information of the workings of the Association can be obtained at the store of J. L. PARRISH & CO.

It is an easy and a cheap way for young men to procure property which will in a few years make them independent.

Mr. Hardhack on the Derivation of Man from the Monkey.

The following article is from the Atlantic Monthly for March. The satire is exquisitely done, and in style and rythm the piece closely resembles, and is almost worthy of Sterne

I can stand it no longer, sir I have been seething and boiling inwardly for a couple of years at this last and final insult which science has put upon human nature, and now I must speak, or, if you will, explode. And how is it, I want to know, that the duty of hurling imprecations at this infernal absurdity has devolved upon me? Don't we employ a professional class to look after the interests of the race?—fellows heartily fed to see to it that gorilla and chimpanzee keep their distance?—paid, sir, by me and you to proclaim that men—ay, and women, too,—are at the top of things in origin, as well as in nature and destiny? Why are these retained attorneys of humanity so confoundedly cool and philosophical, while humanity is thus outraged? What's the use of their asserting, Sunday after Sunday, that man was made a little lower than the angels, when right under their noses are a set of anatomical miscreants who contend that he is little higher than the monkeys? And the thing has now gone so far that I'll be hanged if it isn't becoming a sign of a narrow and prejudiced mind to scout the idea that we are all descended from mindless beasts. You are a fossilized old fogy, in this day of scientific light, if you repudiate your relationship with any fossilized monstrosity which, from the glass case of a museum, mocks at you with a grin a thousand centuries old. To exalt a man's soul above his skeleton, is now to be behind the age. All questions of philosophy, sir, are fast declining into a question of bones,—and [illegible] dry ones they are! The largest minds are now all absorbed in the ugliest brutes, and the ape has passed from being the butt of the menagerie to be the glory of the dissecting room And let me tell you, sir, that, if you make any pretensions to be a naturalist, you will find those of your colaborers who defend the dominant theory [illegible] masters of hard words as of big ones, and if you have the audacity to deny that man is [illegible] from the monkey, it is ten chances to one they will forthwith proceed to treat you like one.

Now I go against the whole thing, sir. When the public mind first took its bent towards science I, for one, foresaw that the Devil would soon be to pay with our cherished ideas. Under the plea of [illegible] raising some of the highest faculties of human nature, these scientific descendalists have ex[illegible] devoted themselves to the lowest objects of [illegible] concern The meaner the creature, the [illegible] they think of it. You, sir, as a free and en[illegible] citizen of this great Republic, doubtless [illegible] something of yourself; but I can tell you [illegible]n't one of these origin-of-species Solons [illegible] wouldn't pass you over as of no account in [illegible] with any anomalous rat which you [illegible] think it beneath your dignity to take the [illegible] of poisoning. There isn't a statesman, [illegible]thropist, or poet, or hero, or saint in the [illegible], sir, that they would condescend to look at, engaged in exploring the remains of some [illegible] of the Stone Period. As for your [illegible] Christian, he has no chance whatever [illegible] only man they think worth the attention of [illegible] intelligence is pre-historic man, the man [illegible] the monkey And this is called progress! [illegible] the result of founding schools, colleges [illegible] for the advancement of knowledge! [illegible] now is Homer, Dante, Shakespeare, [illegible] Leonidas, Epaminondas, Tell, Washington—an Alexander, Hannibal, Cæsar, Napoleon. They, poor devils, were simply [illegible] their structure is so well known that [illegible] worthy the attention of our modern prowl[illegible] the earth's crust in search of lower and [illegible] of the same great natural di[illegible] What do you think these resurrectionists [illegible] society, these Jerry Crunchers of palæontology care for you and me? Indeed, put Al[illegible] any one alive into one end of a museum, [illegible] of these horrible monsters whose bones [illegible] continually dug up into the other, and [illegible] will be rated the more interesting object [illegible] by the "great minds" of the present [illegible] what is the consequence of thus invert[illegible] objects of human concern? Why, [illegible] things according to their descent [illegible] of dignity, and occupy your faculties [illegible] with organized beings below man, you [illegible] to approach them. Evil communications [illegible] good manners You can't keep company [illegible] without insensibly getting be-mon[illegible] Your mind feeds on them until its [illegible] take their shape and nature. Into the [illegible] of your intellectual frame" monkey blood [illegible] The monkey thus put into you nat[illegible] that monkeydom is belied; and [illegible] even, is not revolted by the idea of an [illegible] In this way the new theory of [illegible] originated. Huxley must have pretty [illegible] assimilated monkey before he recog[illegible] ancestor in one. The poor beast him[illegible] have made no pretensions to the honor [illegible] was mentally transformed into Huxley, into the substance of Huxley's mind, be[illegible] with Huxley's arrogance. This is [illegible] explanation, not perhaps of the origin of [illegible] but of the origin of the theory of the ori[illegible] and I should like to thunder the great truth [illegible] ears of all the scientific societies now talk[illegible] with the self satisfied air of great dis[illegible] Yes, sir, and I should also be delighted [illegible] that this progress of monkey, into [illegible] so great an example of "progressive [illegible]" as they seem inclined to suppose, [illegible] require the long reaches of pre-historic [illegible] consider necessary to account for the [illegible]. Twenty years would be enough, in [illegible] to effect that development.

I tell you, sir, it isn't monkey that rises [illegible] into men, but rather man that de[illegible] mentally into monkey. Why, nothing is [illegible] than to apply to us human beings [illegible] of animal, when we display weak[illegible] analogous to their habitual characters [illegible] is metaphor, not classification, poetry, [illegible] Thus I, Solomon Hardhack, was [illegible] a donkey the other day by an intimate [illegible] Thought it merely a jocose reference to [illegible], and did not knock him down [illegible] the same name yesterday by a comparative [illegible]. Thought it an insulting reference to [illegible] standing, and did. But suppose that, in [illegible] both to obstinacy and understanding, I [illegible], to my own satisfaction, a simi[illegible] between myself and that animal, do you [illegible] that I would be donkey enough to take [illegible] for my progenitor? Do you suppose I would go even further, and, having estab[illegible] with the donkey a relation of descent, be [illegible] to generalize the whole human race [illegible] in my calamity? No, sir, I am [illegible] a man of science to commit that [illegible] of good manners. Well, then, my propo[illegible] is, that nobody who reasons himself into a [illegible] from the monkey has the right to take mankind with him in his induction. His ar[illegible] covers but one individual—himself. As for the [illegible], they at least beg to be excused [illegible] joining him in that logical excursion, and [illegible] on striking the monkey altogether out from [illegible] genealogical tree.

And speaking of genealogical trees, do the ad[illegible] of this mad theory realize the disgrace [illegible] are bringing on the most respectable fami[illegible] [illegible] is not an aristocracy in Europe or [illegible] that can stand it one moment, for aris[illegible]y is based on the greatness of forefathers. In America, you know, nobody is aristocratic who cannot count back at least to his great grand father, who rode in a carriage, or—drove one. As for the Hardhacks, I may be allowed to say, [illegible] I despise family pride as much as any man, that they came in with the Conqueror, and [illegible] out with the Puritans. But if this horrible Huxleian theory be true, the farther a person is from his origin, the better; antiquity of descent is no longer a title to honor; and a man must [illegible] himself in looking forward to his descend[illegible] rather than back to his ancestors. And what is this to me, an unmarried man? With a monkey in the background, how can even a [illegible] or a Guelf put on airs of superiority? How must he hide his face in shame to think, that as his line lengthens into an obscure an[illegible]y, the foreheads of his house slope, and their jaws project; that he has literally been all his life aping aristocracy, instead of being the real thing; and that, when he has reached his true beginning, his only consolation must be found in the fact that his great skulking, bulking, gibbering baboon of an ancestor rejoices, like himself, in the possession of "the third lobe," "the posterior cornu of the lateral ventricle," and "the hippocampus minor." Talk about radicalism, indeed! Why, I, who am considered an [illegible] to my radical party for the extremes to which I run, cannot think of this swamping of all the families of the world without a thrill of horror and amazement! It makes my blood run cold to imagine this infernal Huxley perky holding up the frontispiece of this book in the faces of the haughty nobility and gentry of his country, and saying, "Here, my friends, are drawings of the skeletons of gibbon, orang, chimpanzee, gorilla, select your ancestors, you pays your money and has your choice." I don't pretend to know anything about the temper of the present [illegible] and gentry of England; but if the fellow should do this thing to me, I would blow out of his skull everything in it which allied him with the apes—taking a specially grim vengeance on "the posterior cornu of the lateral ventricle,"—as sure as my name's Hardhack, and as sure as there's any explosive power in gunpowder.

And in this connection, too, I should like to know how the champions of this man-monkey scheme get over a theological objection. Don't start, sir, and say I am unscientific. I am not going to introduce Christianity, or monotheism, or polytheism, or fetichism, but a religion which you know was before them all, and which consisted in the worship of ancestors If you are in the custom of visiting in good society, you will find that that is a form of worship which has not yet altogether died out, but roots itself in the most orthodox creeds Now you must admit that the people who worshipped their ancestors were the earliest people of whose religion we have any archæological record, and therefore a people who enjoyed the advantage of being nearer the ancestors of the race than any of the historical savages to whom you can appeal. I put it to you if this people, catching a glimpse of the monkey at the end of their line, if the monkey was really there would have been such dolts as to worship it? Ape worship ape it! Don't you see, that, if this early people had nothing human but human conceit, that would alone have prevented them from doing this thing? Don't you see that they would have preserved a wise reticence in regard to such a shocking bar-sinister in their escutcheons? Worship ancestors, when ancestors are known to have been baboons! Why, you might as well tell me our fashionable friend Eglantine would worship his grandfather, if he knew his grandfather was a hodman. No, sir That early people worshipped their ancestors, because they knew their ancestors were higher and nobler than themselves To suppose the contrary would be a cruel imputation on the character of worthy antediluvians, who unfortunately have left no written account of themselves, and therefore present peculiar claims upon the charitable judgment of every candid mind.

You have been a boy, sir, and doubtless you have had your full share in that amusement, so congenial to ingenious youth, of stirring up the monkeys. You remember what an agreeable feeling of elation, springing from a conscious sense of superiority to the animals pestered, accompanied that exhilarating game. But suppose, while you were engaged in it, the suspicion had flashed across your mind that you were worrying your own distant relations; that it was undeveloped humanity you were poking and deriding; that the frisking, chattering, snarling creature you were tormenting was trying all the while to say, in his unintelligible speech, "Am I not to be a man and a brother?" Would not such an appeal have dashed your innocent mirth! Would you afterwards have been so clamorous or beseeching for parental pennies, as soon as the dead walls of your native town flamed with pictorial announcements of the coming menagerie? No, sir, you couldn't have passed a menagerie without a shudder of loathing or pang of remorse. How fortunate it was, that, for the full enjoyment of your youthful spells, you were ignorant of the affecting fact that the monkey's head as well as our own possessed the "hippocampus minor" and "the posterior cornu of the lateral ventricle!"

I admit that this last article is not addressed to your understanding alone, I despise all arguments on this point that are. I, for one, am not to be reasoned out of my humanity, and I won't be diddled in turning baboon through deference to anybody's logic. My opinions may be up for argument, but I myself am not up for argument. In a question affecting human nature itself, all the qualities of that nature should be addressed. Self-respect, respect for your parentage and your race, your moral instincts, and that force in you which says "I,"—all these, having an interest in such discussion, should have a voice in it; and I execrate the flunkey who will allow himself to be swindled out of manhood, and swindled into monkeyhood, by that pitiful little logic-chopper he calls his understanding. I am not "open to conviction" on this point, thank God! I don't pretend to know whether a "third lobe" is in my head or not, but I do know that Solomon Hardhack is there, and as long as he has possession of the premises, you will find written on his brow, "No monkeys need apply!"

Do you tell me that this is a matter exclusively for anatomists and naturalists to decide? That's the most impudent pretension of all. Why, it's all the other way. Have I not a personal interest in the question greater than any possible interest I can have in the diabolical lingo of scientific terms of which these fellows state the results of their investigations? Have I delegated to any College of Surgeons the privilege of chimpanzeeing my ancestors? No, sir. Just look at it. Here are the members of the human race, going daily about their various avocations, entirely ignorant that any conspiracy is on foot to trick them out of their fatherhood in Adam. While they are thus engaged in getting an honest living, a baker's dozen of unauthorized miscreants assemble in a dissecting room, manipulate a lot of skulls, and decide that the whole batch of us did not descend from a human being. I tell you the whole thing is an atrocious violation of the rights of man. It's unconstitutional, sir? Talk about the glorious principle of "No taxation without representation"! That is simply a principle which affects our pockets, and we fought, bled and died for it. Shall we not do a thousand times more for our souls? Shall we let our souls be voted away by a congress of dissectors, not chosen by our votes,—persons who not only don't represent, but infamously misrepresent us? Why, its carrying the tactics of a New York Common Council from politics to metaphysics! And don't allow yourself to be humbugged by these assassins of your nature. I know the way they have of electioneering. It is "My dear Mr. Hardhack, a man of your intelligence can't look at this ascending scale of skulls without seeing that the difference between Homo and Pithecus is of small account." "A man of your candid mind, Mr. Hardhack, must admit that no absolutely structural line of demarcation, wider than that between the animal world and ourselves" And while I don't comprehend a word of this gibberish, I am expected to bow, and look wise, and say, "Certainly" and "Just so," and "It's plain to the meanest capacity," and be softsawdered out of my humanity, and infamously acknowledge myself babooned.

But they can't try it on me, sir. When a man talks to me in that fashion, measure with my eyes "the structural line of demarcation" between his and with my whole force plant there my fist.

Do you complain that I am speaking in a passion? It seems to me it's about time for all of us to be in a passion. Perhaps if we show these men of science that there is in us a righteous wrath, they may be considerate enough to stop with the monkey,—make the monkey "a finality," sir, and go lower down in the scale of creation to find an ancestor for us. It is our meek submission to the monkey which is now urging them to attempt more desperate outrages still. What if Darwin had been treated as he deserved when he published the original edition of his villainous book? If I had been Chief Justice of England when that high priest of "natural selection" first tried to oust me out of the fee simple of my species, I would have given him an illustration of "the struggle for existence" he wouldn't have relished. I would have hanged him on the highest gallows ever erected on this planet since the good old days of Haman. What has been the result of a mistaken clemency in his case? Why, he has just published a fourth edition of his treatise, and what do you think he now puts forward as our "probable" forefather? "It is probable," he says, "from what we know of the embryos of mammals, birds, fishes and reptiles, that all the members of these four great classes are modified descendants of one ancient progenitor, which was furnished in its adult state with branchiæ, had a swim bladder, four simple limbs, and a long tail fitted for an aquatic life" Probable, indeed! Why, it is also probable, I suppose, that this accounts for the latent tendency in the blood of our best educated collegians to turn watermen, and abandon themselves with a kind of sacred fury to the fierce delight for rowing matches The "long tail fitted for an aquatic life" will also "probably" come in course of time. Student mammals of Harvard and Yale, what think you of your "one ancient progenitor?" Inheritors of his nature, are you sure you have succeeded in cutting off the entail of the estate?

We have been brought up, sir, in the delusive belief that "revolutions never go backwards" It's a lie, I tell you, for this new revolution in in science does nothing else. It is going backwards and backwards and backwards, and it won't stop until it involves the whole of us in that nebulous mist, of which, it seems, all things are but the "modified" development Well, in for a penny in for a pound. Let us not pause at that "long tail fitted for an aquatic life" which made our one ancient progenitor such an ornament of fluvial society, but boldly strike out into space, and clutch with our thought that primitive tail which flares behind the peacock of the heavens,—the comet There's nebulous matter for your profound contemplation. That is the flimsy material out of which stars, earth, water, plants, jelly fish, ancient progenitor, monkey, man, were all equally evolved That is the grand origin of all origins. We are such stuff as comets' tails are made of,—"third lobe," "hippocampus minor," posterior cornu of the lateral ventricle," and all the rest. "Children of the Mist," we are made by this "sublime speculation" at home in the universe. Nebuchadnezzar, when he went to grass, only visited a distant connection. The stars over our heads have for thousands of years been winking their relationship with us, and we have never intelligently returned the jocose salutation, until science taught us the use of our eyes. We are unable to detect the giggle, as of feminine cousins, in the grain whose risibilities are touched by the wind We can now even cheer even the dull stone which we kick from our path with a comforting "Hail fellow, well met." We must not be aristocrats and put on airs. We must hob and nob with all the orders of creation, saying alike to radiates, articulates, and mollusks, "Go ahead, my hearties! don't be shamefaced; you're as good as vertebrates, and only want, like some of our human political lights, a little backbone to have your claims admitted. You are all on your glorious course manward, via the ancient progenitor and the chimpanzee. It seems a confounded long journey, for nature is a slow coach, and thinks nothing of a million of years to effect a little transformation But one of these days our scientists may find means to expedite that old sluggard, and hurry you through the intermediate grades in a way to astonish the venerable lady Liberty, equality and fraternity—those are the words which will open the gates of your organized Bastiles, and send your souls on a career of swifter development Trust in Darwin, and let creation ring with your song of "A good time coming, Invertebrates!"

Well, sir, you want logic, and there you have it with a vengeance! I have pitched you back into nebula, where these fellows tell me you belong, and I trust you're satisfied. Now what is my comfort, sir, after making my brain dizzy with this sublime speculation of theirs? Why, it's found in the fact, that by their own concession, the thing will not work, but must end in the biggest "catastrophe" ever heard of The whole infernal humbug is to explode, sir, and by no exercise of the "hippocampus minor" can they prevent it This fiery mist, which has hardened and rounded into our sun and planets, and developed into the monkey's "third lobe" and ours, does not lose the memory of the conceit of its origin, but is determined to get back into its first condition as quickly as circumstances will admit It considers itself somehow to have been swindled every step of the long process it has gone through in arriving at our brains. It don't think the speculation pays, prefers its lounging, vagabond, dolce far niente existence, loafing through the whole space between the sun and Neptune, to any satisfaction it finds in being concentrated in your thoughts or mine; and accordingly it meditates a coup d'etat by which the planets are to fall into the sun at such a pace as to knock the whole system into eternal smash, and reduce it to its original condition of nebulous mist, sir. Do you like the prospect? I tell you there is no way of escaping from conclusions, if you are such a greenhorn as to admit premises. I have been over the whole chain of the logic, and find its only weak link is the monkey one. Knock that out, and you save the solar system as well as your own dignity as a man, sir, retain it, and some thousands of generations hence the brains of your descendants will be blown into a texture as gauzy as a comet's tail, and it will be millions of ages before, in the process of a new freak of development in the unquiet nebula, they can hope to arrive again at the honor of possessing that constimable boon, dear equally to baboons and to men, "the posterior cornu of the lateral ventricle!"

HURRIED READING.—Schoolboys are apt to make sad work in reading, from catching sight of only a portion of a sentence or word, and imagining the rest. Recently a school boy was reading in the bible, the account of Christ's arraignment before Pilate, when the populace cried out, "Crucify him! crucify him!" and Pilate inquired" Why, what evil hath he done?" The boy read quite closely and accurately, "Crucify him, crucify him," and then hurriedly, "And Pilate saith, why, what the devil hath he done?"

Fountain of Life!

GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER!

IN EVERY PROGRESSIVE SCIENCE PERIODS ARrive when a new direction is imparted to its course. These epochs proceed from discovery of new facts shedding a light which changes the whole aspect of the science The present is an epoch of this kind, and this Great Remedy, now offered to the public, in connection with the theory on which it is based, is destined to effect an entire revolution in the treatment of the disease of

by eradicating the disease entirely from the blood. The FOUNTAIN OF LIFE is composed entirely of vegetable extracts; it contains no Mercury or other mineral substance

The Proprietor and Discoverer of this Sovereign Remedy CHALLENGES THE WORLD to furnish anything, from the days of Æsculapius down to the present time, in the arcana of Medical Science, which can vie with or excel the intrinsic properties of this Great Blood Purifier. Its value has been tested with the happiest effect in the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians in the world No matter what form the dreadful disease of SCROFULA and KING'S EVIL may have assumed, it can in no way be more safely and certainly arrested in its progress than by HENLEY'S GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. Thousands have been swept into their graves, who had they made a timely use of the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE, might now be enjoying the blessings of life and health It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself. During the stern ordeal of public experiment the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE has stood the test trial, and not been found wanting.

☞ Dr. HENLEY guarantees to CURE any case of SCROFULA or KING'S EVIL in the world and eradicate the disease entirely from the system, or no charge made—provided they will secure him his pay when they are cured

FOR REFERENCE:

I would refer you to L L Peck, of Portland, Oregon and numbers of others, as to what a miraculous effect it had in a short time, in cases that had baffled the skill of physicians for years.

SALEM, July 21, 1866

This is to certify that I was blind for over four months, and almost blind for one year and a half, I tried several eye doctors but received no benefit, I had almost given my case up as hopeless when fortunately I heard of Dr. G. W Brown, now of Salem. I was induced to try him; he performed a surgical operation on my eyes, and gave me treatment I soon began to recover, and in a short time I was perfectly cured. I do this in justice to one who rescued me from a fate worse than death, and also for the benefit of those who are laboring under similar afflictions that they may know where they can get relief. It is now about eight months since my eyes were cured and they still remain good. I can see to read the finest print without difficulty, and my eyes can bear the strongest light without pain

ALEXANDER MITCHELL.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this the 21st day of July, A. D 1866. SETH R. HAMMER, dec4dtf Notary Public.

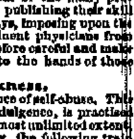
TO THE UNFORTUNATE!

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco, Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse, This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

Consultations FREE.

Prevention Better than Cure.

L. JAY S. TURNEY,

HAVING LEASED THE ABOVE NAMED HOTEL, is prepared to accommodate the traveling public, and ONE HUNDRED REGULAR BOARDERS, in as good style as any House on the Coast. He has determined to make the "Bennett" as good as the best and better than any public house in Salem He will soon complete some important improvements, which will add greatly to its appearance and comfort, and intends to merit and hopes to receive his share of patronage.

He has secured the services of "Charley" (known to be the best cook in Salem, and one of the best in the whole country) and other competent persons to manage the culinary department, and is resolved to set as good a table as can be found anywhere—not in claptrap, pomp and show, flummery and fine furniture, but in an abundant supply of the very best the market affords.

His Bar-room will be kept warmed and lighted, and well supplied with newspapers, periodicals and other suitable reading matter, and kept in a manner which will make it an agreeable resort.

In short, he intends making an effort to please ALL who stop at the BENNETT HOUSE And he most respectfully requests his friends everywhere to give the old and well known stand at least one more trial before concluding they can do as well elsewhere, and promises if they are not well treated, and properly cared for, and at reasonable figures, it will not be the fault of the public's most obedient and most humble servant,
